Join members of the Cornell Law School's Advocacy for LGBT Communities Clinic for an important FREE seminar that will address the importance of legal documents in planning for the future and legally protecting you and your family.

Participants will receive information, have questions answered and even get assistance in completing certain documents free of charge.

The lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender (LGBT) community has unique needs and faces a world with fewer legal protections, so it is even more important that we make the effort to protect ourselves and our families legally and financially.

Light dinner provided. RSVPs requested to Heather Hauer-Ross at hauerross98@yahoo.com or 607.724.4308.
